Sorry for the delay – We like this version, but could you spell out South Korea as well? We were thinking that you might be able to add the S Korea pres to the white ring, but I don't know how cramped that would be.

Also, any update on the shipping of the seals and coins?

Thanks!

Good morning,

Happy Thursday! Here are our thoughts on the Peace Talk Coins.
It's not perfect (from a design stand point) but I really like the feel on how this stands out.

B6 ! this afternoon, if we could chat on this in the morning or send me a quick email.
That would be great.

My only issues is how to showcase the S. Korean President. I have an idea, but wanted your input.

We're not sure if all three are equal yet either...

We are currently thinking to do 150.

Good afternoon (b) (6) ,

Yes we can add the Republic of Korea on the outer ring equal to the USA, N. Korca, then add The President of S. Korea. all on the 2nd ring.

We just were not sure if all 3 countries were equal? Thank you

I will have updates edits later.

I think this will look really cool.

How many are we thinking? I will need 2 weeks production if I can get the design approved and get working on the molds. If the trip does not happen, there will be no mold charge. It's better to be proactive with a tight time line.

The issue is, North Korean Side has so many more letters, the only way to balance it is to make the typography SMALLER on the North Korean side.

Good morning (b) (6)

We were able to get the order shipped yesterday.

They went FedEx Overnight

Tracking shows these are out for delivery. I am going to double check that the driver leaves the package without a signature. We have it indicated on the label, but sometimes the drivers miss that.

Regarding action #2 below, please give us until 15 June to complete since we have to coordinate with all WHCA orgs and WHMO GC plus we have long weekend and busy travel mission.

(b) (6) ,

This is a follow-up email/tasking from our conversation this morning reference the authorities, policy, and compliance of the "organization" responsible for the sale of coins.

Request J7 take the lead. On the Coin Issue – J3 is in full support!

I have been able to talk with several of the WHCA HQ members and WHMO Legal. As you research the current "state of affairs" related to compliance of the "challenge coin" sales, please take lead to staff the following:

Intent: Ensure "private organizations" associated with WHCA has a current Charters/by laws and their operations remain in compliance with associated laws/regulations.

ACTION:

1. Draft and coordinate the necessary paperwork for the "challenge coin" sales operations to ensure compliance with associated laws/regulations.
2. Initiate a data call for all "private organizations" associated with WHCA who sell or gather funds for the benefit of its members. (All Commands and Directorates are OCRs).

Upon receipt of this email, please provide your estimated timeline to:

1. Answer any remaining questions/concerns related to the "challenge coin" media queries and Rep Larson's office. All inputs must be cleared by WHMO for delivery, if appropriate to other orgs. Please work with (b) (6) or myself on draft responses.
2. Data call for all other "private organizations."

Standing by for questions/concerns.

Thanks.

A "precise roll-up of the 5 Ws" or facts behind the WHCA private organization behind the purchase and sale of the trip coins.

Executive Summary:

The trip coins area managed under the constructs of the WHCA J3 Morale Fund. The morale fund is for the benefit of the members, which includes service members (all ranks), civilians (all grades), volunteers and family members. A WHCA J3 Directorate civilian (Government Service employee) does non-profit volunteering to the J3 Morale Fund by ordering and distributing trip coins, as a private individual and on his personal time. The Civilian member has volunteered in this capacity for significant POTUS trips/events for the last five years.

Singapore Trip Coin Specifics:

Related to the Singapore trip, the Civilian member ordered an initial procurement of 250 Singapore trip coins from Challenge Design, 910 W. Atlantic Ave., Waukegan, Illinois. The coins were not purchased with appropriated or government funds. For purposes of selling the coins, the Civilian distributed the coins to WHCA and WHMO organization/members as a memorabilia for the planned summit between the leaders of the United States and North Korea. The profits made from the sale of coins will go to the J3 Morale Funds for J3 and WHCA use for morale events—going away gifts, Thanksgiving appreciation meals to shift workers, J3 Holiday Party, cakes, decorations.

Trip Coin Standard Practices

Trips coins have been a standard practice since 2003, manufactured as a souvenir for Presidential support members. Trip coins are designed only for international trips or special events; only produced when the trip notification has been released to the public. The trip coin has been a big part of the Presidential travel history and individuals have enjoyed having the memorabilia, to reflect on all the places they have traveled in support of the President or to present as appreciation gifts.

After a trip is publicly announced, the J3 Directorate Civilian contacts the vendor who designs, manufactures, and delivers the coins to the volunteer. The information provided to the vendor only includes the location, event and year of the trip. The coins are the property of the volunteer until the coins are sold; the coins do not belong to J3 Morale Fund or WHCA. The Civilian must approve any additional production from the vendor since he owns the dye and molding rights as the requestor of the coins.

The J3 Morale Fund has a Standard Operating Procedure (SOP) memo signed , a military officer. The SOP provides guidance on the fund use and responsibilities of personnel. The policy uses as a reference the DoD Joint Ethics Regulation (DoD 5500.6-R) and other Army Regulations such as: AR 600-20, Command Policy, AR 608-1 - Army Community Service, AR 600-29 - Fundraising within the Department of the Army, AR 1-100 - Gifts and Donations. The current J3 a Senior Non-Commissioned Officer, maintains receipts, accounts, and records.
